DECISION IS VICTORY FOR THE FARMERS

Supreme Court Sustains Interpretation of the Laurier Govt.

BORDEN MAY NOW ALTER REGULATIONS

B.C. Lumber Men Are Already Getting in Their Work.

Special to the Bulletin.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—The decision handed down today by the Supreme Court is a victory to the Laurier interpretation. The late administration took the view of the custom regulation which has now been sustained by the Court. When the Borden government came into power, at the request of the lumber men of the lower part of B.C., they insisted that the duty be collected, and abolished the interpretation of the Liberal government.

The result was that much of the U.S. lumber which had been supplied to the prairie farmers was cut off and considerably diminished was experienced. The Supreme Court judgment confirming the Laurier interpretation will make conditions as they previously were.

Now, however, the B.C. lumbermen who suffered by the influx of U.S. lumber are alive. Mr. Borden has introduced in due course changes in the regulations, and it is probable that he will capitulate again to their insistent demands. It will be another case of the farmer of the West being sacrificed for the manufacturer.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
Berlin, Oct. 29.—The Frankfurter Zeitung prints a Vienna despatch, evidently from the Foreign Office, which says: "The time for the intervention by the powers is near. We have a splendid opportunity." In the same paragraph, Premier Laurier is defeated in the impending battle between Adriaopolis and Constantinople. The Frankfurter Zeitung goes on to look to its interests, since the destruction of European Turkey could not be better suited to the expansion of Constantinople by another power.

Sufficient enough has been spent and peace can be offered to both sides. If Bulgaria is beaten, with good prospects of victory, Austria would mean immediate war with the Balkan alliance. A decided battle is expected, but the foreign intervention is probable within a week."

Bulgarian Commission Comes.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—The first autumn sitzitzes the railway commission has held within the last two weeks will commence on Nov. 11th. The commission includes its honorary life member, Leslie Bright, Regina; Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan; Calgary, Edmonton, Nelson, and Victoria. The meeting will be held in Fort William on the 11th.

Sitto and Bennett for London.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Premier Sifton, of Alberta, was in the capital today, and after the presentation of his report to the Legislative Assembly, he will go to the great waterways before the pricy commission. R. H. Bennett, of Calgary, was also engaged on the case, left yesterday for London.

The case was first heard by Hon. Justice Clark, and he heard a large number of the witnesses called out for the Foss Lumber company interests and the Dominion government.

The case will be heard again on the 1st of November, and the trial will be held in Fort William on the 11th.

Both Set Out for London.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Both "lumberjacks" and one with a plane and staved or reduced to dimensions on the other three sides should continue to come to the prairies. The customs act remains as it stands.

It is the effect of an important judgment given by the Supreme Court in the case of the Foss Lumber Company of Winnipeg vs. the King and the British Columbia Lumber and Shingle manufacturers.

The case was first heard by Hon. Justice Clark, and he heard a large number of the witnesses called out for the Foss Lumber company interests and the Dominion government.

OLD KNOX CHURCH IS FOOT HIGH FOR WIRES

NOTICE Post to Messrs. Height of church and Electro Wires
Church on the Movie Muir Hall on Street at $2.50 Per Day.

The building inspector some days ago issued a moving permit for the old Knox Church which had recently been sold by the trustees to Mr. Archibald, on the understanding that the building to be moved was under 24 feet high. When the church到了 the new street but found that more pay for damages to be paid by the city if a suit arises owing to the blockage of the sidewalk.

KILLED WHILE AT WORK

About 1:45 p.m. yesterday John Cunningham was killed while repairing a freight car in the C.P.R. yards near 102nd Street. He was an unmarried man, residing with his brother and mother on Third Avenue. He was working on the car when it was turned over, causing him to fall. His pocket knife was found in his pocket.

The man was taken to the hospital where he died. His body was buried in a block. On Fourth avenue north it was headed around square with the street sign pointing in the direction to its intended location where it will be remodeled and used as a dwelling.

Wireless' Elevator.

But alas somebody blundered and the wire was cut. It rests on Fourth Avenue north and the city will be charged $2.50 per day for every day it remains there.

The trouble comes from the roof being higher than it is possible to lift the wires. It is east of Main Street.

The wireless came to lift the wires to pass it but they found that it was impossible to lift the wires higher than the height of the pole. The wires are at a standstill.

The Alderman's Decision.

In view of the fact that a number of the purchasers went to visit the building inspector to see what could be done, he has decided to extend to both sides of the story and decided that the only way out of the situation would be for the city to demand that the wires be cut down so far as to let the wires hang under the power of the city.

In the meantime the sidewalk on Fourth street has been torn up and is not replaced. The big building occupies nearly the whole street. The city can charge $2.50 per day for use of the street but the man must pay for damages to be paid by the city if a suit arises owing to the blockage of the sidewalk.

He is asking a draw-suit and at least $2.50, to be paid by the complainant. Costs will be added to the amount of the damage.

John Hamilton, for prosecuting, said the window was broken and cost $2.50 and one month at Port Saskatchewan. His friends paid the fine.

SOUTH SIDE MARKETS.

Hay in large quantities is wanted but the market is still open for the same old price, even though it remains on the market. One load of hay was brought in from the south and was offered at $1.50 per ton.

The corner Dr. Craig, will investigate and decide whether or not to hold an inquest.

SOUTH SIDE POLICE COURT.

Mah Khan, of the King Edward restaurant, some time ago laid a complaint against John D. McKenzie for occupancy. There is already a waiting list and when the hearing of the case will be taken. Indeed, the prospective buyers have been told that no room has to be provided for the increase in population.

This fact in itself, assures the building trade of the community of a constant demand for houses and other improvements of the rapidly growing provincial educational centre.

DECISION IN VICTORY

FOR THE FARMERS

The supreme court, Justice Lewis, C. counsel for the crown, stated that as the British Columbia lumbermen were represented by their own lawyers, he could not say much about their case. He said that the lumbermen were fully advised, but right at the moment he could not say much in favour of the small sum involved.

The case of the Foss Lumber company, which was argued by W. D. Morris, for the lumbermen, was not mentioned by the government. He was assisted by R. G. Smith, K. C. and W. H. McLean, K. C. of Montreal, upheld the contention of the British Columbia interests. The trial was adjourned until Nov. 15; the amount of duty collected on a carload of lumber impounded by the Foss Lumber company.

The effect of the judgment, however, far-reaching, as the Western settlers use many more timber than the lumbermen, and much lumber, much of which is imported from the United States. It is expected that the lumbermen will appeal the case to the supreme court or make a demand on the government for a larger sum. The lumbermen contend that the lumber which has been in the past and will in the future come from the West is a highly manufactured product which the American sawmill men are now unable to produce. They also contend that the new invention which makes it possible to do much finer work with saws.

A venturous young man, who had the greenhouse was gay with garlands of glowing chrysanthemums, golden ones arched over the entrance, while white and yellow 'mums held their queenly sway, while blue Richmond roses, pink and white tulip flowers, and various combinations in the crimson, white and pink hues, also dauntless sprays of lilies of the valley added delicate aromas. Stately palms, ferns and other verdure added their touches of charm to the exhibition. The band played delightfully, adding much to the enjoyment of the afternoons.

PAUL GILMORE IN "THE HAVOC"

Paul Gilmore, one of America's best-known stage actors and a famous stage director, will appear at the Empire theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, in a new farce, "The Havoc," according to the Independent.

Mr. Gilmore is a master of American drama, it is said. "Munsey's Magazine last year, an exceptionally fine play, superbly produced," said the critic.

Mr. Gilmore has done much work of art, said the New York Times. "Mr. Gilmore has done more than any other man in the field in his whole career than this portrait of an intense, almost saturnine man, who is prone to fits of rage, and the intelligence to wait the time for a vengeance more powerful than one of his own immediate execution."

BROUGHT AND PAID

Mr. George H. Smith, the noted author, has contributed many notable successes on the theatrical horizon, but his "Brought and Paid" is not of his best, and it is commended upon as Mr. Headcross's masterpiece.

It is a good play, however, drama, but as no one appears to have written a better, it is recommended.

PETTER FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

The bankers are now telling us that the financial prospect is brightening, and that Canadian cities will without doubt be able to get the money they require for investment purposes. The higher rates of interest will be demanded. This view is in conformity with the statements of leading financiers on this and the other side of the Atlantic, that the difficulties of Canadian cities in selling debentures in London recently have not been due to any lack of demand for Canadian securities, but merely to the accident that the demand had for the time exhausted the funds available for this sort of investment. The promise of better financial weather seems also to indicate the belief of the banking men that the Balkans will not spread into a general European war.

A prospect of that—evidently a remote prospect—would bring warnings and not assurances from the financial authorities.

WESTERN REALTY VALUES.

The manager of the National Trust Company, on returning to Edmonton after a recent trip through the West, has given out a statement as to realty values in Western cities, which should do good in a corner where it seems to need being done. Mr. Ross' opinion is that values in the business and residential sections of Western cities are not unduly high, bearing in mind the enormous and rapid development abroad of these cities. Coming from a man who should know something about real estate values, and who has lately gone over the ground, this statement should serve to undo some of the language that has been done by representations of certain chartered firms which do not speak with authority, but seem indeed to have bottom, ashionable in certain newspaper and financial quarters in Eastern Canada to represent the West as a country inhabited by scoundrels whose highest aim in life is to swindle the people of the East by selling them something which the east does not want, the money asked. If Edmonton and other Western cities have not suffered injury from this sort of campaign it assuredly is not because the campaign has not been carried on with vigor and persistency. If this statement can be an information, whom better than the author of the report of realty values, help to counter his wrong impression as given to Eastern people, the result will be for their good as well as ours.

That there are dishonest individuals engaged in the business of buying and selling lots in and around Western cities is probable. That there are dishonest individuals engaged in the buying and selling of lots in and around Eastern cities is at least possible. Certainly if not, then the reality business of Eastern Canada is unique among all the branches of business enterprise carried on in that section of the Dominion. And the man who buys something he does not want about from a man, he knows nothing about, must realize that he is taking chances, whether he lives in Eastern or Western Canada and wherever or whatever may be the particular kind of thing purchased. In so far as real estate in Alberta is concerned at least, the instant information given certain safeguards against fraud. The Legislature of the province has enacted a statute for the very purpose of preventing this sort of thing, and if the investor keeps the agent within the requirements of the statute he will also keep him in direct line for the penalties imposed upon misrepresentation. If the Eastern investor is swindled by being told that he is getting something other than he is getting, the fault lies with his own lack of caution; just as the Edmonton man would have no proper kick coming if it allowed a stranger to sell him a "Toronto lot" situated in the middle of Lake Ontario. A disinterested solicitor and the Eastern investor has ample means of avoiding speculation in real estate, like any other kind of speculation, is merely a matter of opinion. A real agent cannot guarantee purchaser that his property will quadruple in value overnight, and the investor will not undertake to do so. The most he can do, or should be expected to do, is to point out fairly the probabilities of the case, and having the case before him it is for the investor to say whether he will buy or not—and the responsibility for his judgment rests with him.

RESULTS INVESTIGATIONS.

"I don't believe any alderman should be allowed to say such things," Ald. Clarke said, declared Livingston. "The alderman refused to retract his remarks, and I do not believe he should be allowed to pass unchanged."

Ald. East agreed that it was very important that the results of the council meeting be made known to the public, and that it should be forced himself.

"Will you incorporate this amendment?" asked Ald. Clarke of Ald. May, according to Mr. Macdonald.

Ald. Macdonald—"No." It's a farce.

Ald. East, in replying to a statement by Ald. Macdonald, that as Clarke refused to withdraw his remarks, he still insisted that no one supported the alderman in his charges. He thought that nothing could be done to stop it.

Clarke said he knew all about the transactions.

A vote was then called on the motion by Ald. Macdonald, that as Clarke refused to withdraw his remarks, he still insisted that no one supported the alderman in his charges.

Ald. East voted for it, while Clarke voted against it.

What Aldermen Say.

This is what the Edmonton press has written about the investigation:

Ald. AVARD—"The matter should be referred to the council at all."

Ald. Douglas—"I agree, I thought that we had finished with this matter."

Ald. Landy—"If Clarke withdraws now, it will be all right, but no one else will be allowed to say that kind of talk. I'm willing to make this suggestion, if he will withdraw his charge."

Ald. Tipton—"The whole thing is closed, and was closed months ago. Let us drop the whole matter right now."

Ald. Macdonald—"I am willing to make this suggestion, if he will withdraw his charge, we will drop the matter."

"Then let me do it," said Ald. Tipton.

"No," protested Ald. Macdonald.

"Go ahead," said Ald. Landy.

Ald. Landy said it seemed to me that the matter should be left over until Clarke's return. I understand, however, that Ald. Macdonald feels the same way."

Decide Investigigation.

The motion was carried to a vote, however, and on the the resulting, the mayor voted for the investigation. Ald. Clarke voted against it.

It was fifteen minutes to twelve when the council concluded this business and adjourned. The next day, the mayor for a solid hour, the council decided to raise the grants suggested by the committee.

Ald. Clarke said that if the mayor had been prosecuted half of the aldermen of the city would have been present when he left the chair to reply to the charge of the mayor.

Clarke spoke in reply. Ald. Clarke reiterated his statement and further stated that he had not been prosecuted because he had not the support of the majority of the members.

Ald. Clarke said that if the mayor left the chair to reply to the charge of the mayor, he would speak in reply.

Clarke flatly refused to do so.

Decide Investigation.

The motion was carried to a vote, however, and on the the resulting, the mayor voted for the investigation. Ald. Clarke voted against it.

JUDGE WILL INVESTIGATE LAND DEAL

would amount to $220,000 for a new wing, and in return get a mortgage on the property, with three requirements. The first was that the money referred to the committee that has been dealing with our hospital question. The second was that the committee appointed to recommend a man for the third commissioner was received in a report which read as follows:

"We would like to have been referred the question of recommending a man to be appointed third commissioner of the hospital project and say that we will soon be ready to report and recommend one commissioner to the hospital committee. We would respectfully ask the council what will be their pleasure in regard to the appointment of a fourth commissioner."

A Fourth Commissioner.

The suggestion for a fourth commissioner stood over. Ald. Lundy thought that the committee should have their recommendation for the third commissioner ready by next week. At the time the discussion would be referred to the committee which will be their pleasure in regard to the appointment of a fourth commissioner.

At the time the discussion would be referred to the committee which will be their pleasure in regard to the appointment of a fourth commissioner.

Objects of Fourth Man.

Many Amherstites voted objections to an addition member of the board of commissioners. He wanted to know about the action taken by the members of the committee. He said he wanted to know what was needed at present. Ald. Lundy finally declared that he would not want to add another member to the council until deferred action until next meeting.

A report from the public works committee that all the subdivisions east of Mill Creek had run up to, east of Mill Creek and running up to, the river about fourteen in number. The committee was taking up the matter.

A request from Industrial commissioners Hall, for a grant to finance the new planning and zoning board was referred to Alderman Lundy, East, Tipton and McDonald, with power to spend $1,000.

Special assessments adopted by the commissioners as a court of appeal against the council, there were no appeals.

Second Gas Offer.

B. H. Carmichael made offer of natural gas for the city. He wants $400,000,000 cubic feet. He wants a meter to be installed and asks $100 per 1,000 cubic feet for the first delivery, to be made by the first of October. The matter was referred to the committee having charge of such offers.

Cards in the census from the city were ordered paid to Cormack and Mackie.

Application from a coal supplier for reduction of the license fee, again aroused the oft-repeated question of the cost of living.

Ald. Lundy thought there were peddlers who were doing a good thing, as kept from other (this means of getting from house to house). Ald. Lundy thought there should be no fees. Ald. Livingston declared that he saw no reason for the application, as peddlers on a 20 per cent basis, and peddlers on a 5 per cent basis, and the latter get no fees. The application was filed.

On a motion by Ald. Lundy, the fees were reduced. The fees on the appointments on the board of directors of the Exhibition Association; R. J. McManus, Mr. John D. Thompson, Dr. Terry, O. Hunter, Ald. Tipton and Ald. Lundy.

The long hot day tax was finally brought forward and given two readings.

Election Officials.

Returning Officer McManus and Deputy Returning Officer Quillian were responsible for the coming civic election. The election fees were increased to $150 and $100, respectively.

Ald. May suggested that the police be on hand to keep order, and it was informed that this could be arranged when the election by-law is passed.

A grant of $400 was made to the Edmonton Poultry and Pet Stock as association on a request from the officials of that organization.

TURKS PLACE CHRISTIANS IN THE BATTLE LINE

And Murder Them in Full View
Or Greeks Officers' Field
Glasses.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The victorious Greek army of General Metaxas has advanced on Larissa and is eager to meet the Turks, who, according to the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, have been fighting a rearguard action which is a disgrace to modern warfare and the Turkish leg.

"The Greeks, who fought several days ago," the correspondent says, "the Turks placed twenty-five Christians in front of them and forced them to march them in full view of the Greek field glasses. Christian women and children were shot down in Larissa, where they suffered nameless atrocities until rescued by the Greek forces."

"Facing the army of the Epiphany are the two Turkish divisions. A battle is imminent between them."

Kings and Queens at the Front.

"With the King and princess of the Balkans, the King of Serbia, the Emperor of the Turks and the sons of the kings commanding armies, the queens and princesses of the Balkans and the Queen of the Red Cross. Queen Olga is now at Larissa, attending the wounded, with which the place is strewn.

She is the Queen of the ordinary battle at Samandolphi. She remained today for an hour ministering beside the dead, a scene of carnage which the lungs. When his mother came, the lad, who was dying, expressed a wish to see the Queen. The Queen refused, but the Queen relented weeping."

"Princess Alice, the wife of Prince Andrew, was in Larissa, away with a staff of picked nurses. After the battle at Samandolphi she performed alone, ministering to the wounded and the maimed on the battlefield among the wounded."

"Princess Helena, daughter of the Greek Prince, is in charge of a hospital with nurses plucked from the noblest families of Greece."

Fight Like Madmen.

From the Marmarica battlefield comes a despatch from the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, which states that the Turks are fighting like madmen.

"They still hold the heights at Tarabouch, the key to Smyrna. At the moment the Turks are hurried about and shell at the Ottomans defenders, and late last night the British forces were unable to ascertain whether this is a preliminary to the surrender of the Ottoman fortress under command of the Sultan."

From Constantinople, the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle telegraphed:

"The Turks have changed all their war schemes and the Porte expects to be beaten. The Greeks have been crowned by a decisive victory. Incidentally, Nasir Bey, the Turkish governor of Smyrna, was captured yesterday for the panic and flight of the Turkish troops there, has been put before the Turkish authorities.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent states the army of the Epiphany soldiers are fighting like madmen.

"It is reported that the Greek army is now on the defensive and the lines of communication will be held until the final victory is captured. This would seem to indicate that the Turkish troops, having rallied, are taking the offensive."

RUSSIA IS STIRRED BY TALES OF PLOTS TO KIDNAP CZAR

Stories Now Tell How Czar Was to Have Been Forced to Abdicate Throne—Nihilist Was to Have Stabbed Eight-Year-Old Crown Prince.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—Now it is a certainty that the czar and his son will be compelled to abdicate the Russian throne and flee the country. The czar's old caretaker, heir to the crown—both the czar and his son are ill—Admiral M. Chagin as the chief conspirator—but he is not the only one who says that the admiral's favorite, and commander of the Imperial Guard, was the author of the plots when warned by telephone "that there would be trouble" in a quarter.

When they arrived they found a site of many papers to the kitchen, and the admiral, sick through the heart, in a stupor, lay upon the floor. When Duke Michael, saying he could not count on it, drove straight home. Through the plot was hatched at St. Petersburg, the execution was planned for later, where the plan was seriously discredited.

What the Plot Was.

According to present rumors the plan was to have the officers and crew of the Standard not the royal party, but the czar and his son, be sent to Siberia to be interned, and while there to be starved to death, and while the czar and his son were held captive, the czar's son would be given nerves and fed. The czar's favorite, and commander of the Imperial Guard, was the author of the plots when warned by telephone "that there would be trouble" in a quarter.

PRISONER DIES IN CORRIDOR AT POLICE STATION

Thos. Lawrence Arrested When Helplessly Intoxicated, Dies Lying in Corridor.

CELLS OVERCROWDED BY MANY DRUNKEN MEN

Police Sergeant in Charge Examined Deceased When He Was in Dying Condition.

A high-music troupe Lawrence, taken to city police station Monday night in a helplessly drunken condition, was found dead early in morning lying in a corridor where the usual police station, where he had been put on account of all the cells being full.

Lawrence was locked up between ten and eleven, in company with another drunkard, Thomas Burke.

Both men were very drunk and had fled vomiting in the cells.

The officer in charge at the station said that from time past reports that the cells were visited every quarter of an hour at night by one or other of the police officers. At one o'clock he saw the two men, Burke and Lawrence, lying in the corridor outside the cells. Burke was very crowded and he thought the men would be more likely to be kept under observation than Lawrence, who when they were here did not have them removed. At five minutes to one the officer in charge went into the cell and saw the men were still lying there.

Later the sergeant saw the men again and examined both of them. Lawrence was breathing his last.

RETURNED FROM DRY-FARMING EXPOSITION

Provincial Ministers Come North After Attending the Congress at Leibnitz, Austria. Congress Closed With a Fine Show, Farmers, Who Were at Their Fall Work.

The Hon. A. J. McLean, provincial secretary, and the Hon. Charles Stewart, minister from the Dry Farming section from the Dry Farming Congress Monday night. Both expressed the opinion that the Dry Farming Congress was a great success, with the hydraulic Reaper-cultivator and the boiler that has the power of a steam engine.

The third reason given is that the dry-farmers paid heed to the advice of the grainmen, and the fourth reason is that the grainmen paid heed to the advice of the dry-farmers.

No Snow at Moose Jaw.

Moose Jaw, Oct. 29.—So far there has been no snow. Moose Jaw, there has been little snow, but the weather conditions while snow and frost have been experienced "further west" than the local steams and mists. There is no snow here yet but old timers are looking for the present cold wind to bring in the fall frost.

Superb Weather at the Hotel Alta.

Saskatoon, Alta., Oct. 29.—The weather has been superb. The weather conditions while snow and frost have been experienced "further west" than the local steams and mists. There is no snow here yet but old timers are looking for the present cold wind to bring in the fall frost.

Mr. Stewart and Mr. McLean attended a number of meetings arranged to discuss the financial condition of the district which has been better supported in the South than in some of the districts in the West.

The fact that the threshing was late in being completed in the South to rats and snow in September and the early part of the month was responsible for the poor condition of the farmers.

Mr. McLean said that the dry-farmers present were present as the directors of the convention would have liked.

Mr. McLean said that the weather was good and the weather

CALGARIANS GIVE ESKIMOS MUCH CREDIT

Southerners Are Away Off, How ever, Who Snowden Is Given Credit.

Calgary's comment on Monday's big rugby game is a mass of contradictions. Two papers agreed to print nothing on any one point, however, can be ascribed to the differences of personal opinion between the two editors. The unanimity with which all agree is the judgment of plain Mel Snowden, who was a joke. Any fair-minded soul who has seen the game will see that there are several aspects to it.

Tigers Had a Share

The Tigers had a share of the battle team, but they rather had a share on the enemy. They were stronger in the line and had a better line than the Eskimos, but even though Edmonton was a little slower, he had a better backfield. He had a big foot, but he hadn't very much on Calgarystyle. The Eskimos men tackled him like a bull. The Edmonton men tackled him like a tiger. The Eskimos men often, but the Calgary men followed him. The Eskimos were good at trick plays, such as the double cross, and never quit till the last minute, but they were beaten by those Calgary gains.

When Wilson was sent off by Judge P. J. P. Wilson, he was benched for the rest of the game and the visitors won. The Eskimos had a good start, but the contest was over.—Herald.

BIGEAD STARS IN CALGARY

(Special to the Bulletin) —Calgary, Oct. 29.—Babe Ruth, star pitcher of the Boston Red Sox, the world's champion, is a visitor in Calgary. Adams will remain in this city until next week, when he will return to the United States. Vane Gregg and Buddy Ross, pitcher and outfielder, respectively, have been here since Saturday. Gregg will visit Calgary next week. Gregg will proceed to Edmonton, where he purposed passing the winter.

TUG-OF-WAR CONTESTS WILL BE WORTH SEEING

Interest is great in the first annual Alberta indoor championship and by the time the big meet comes off on Nov. 13th there promises to be keen enthusiasm among the sports of Edmonton.

Even event will doubtless attract a number of spectators, but the piece de resistance will be the national tug-of-war contests. All competitors will represent the best in the north, and that in itself will mean a struggle with the last contestants.

It is expected that the contest with four staidish Iriishmen from Old Orland and an equal number of sturdy Swedes, may bring the advantages of their system of physical training to the front. The English, United States, Canada and representatives of other countries will be there to cheer them on to victory or honorable defeat.

In the tug-of-war some of the teams might like to try out before the night of the contest. The arrangements will be made by the Y. M. C. A. for such a test. Any Englishman who wants to make his place on the team should report to B. F. McLean, manager of the Y. M. C. A. N. W. Newman, room 26, will look after the interests of the Dutch team.

H. J. Sneddy, in the Y. M. C. A. office, is in charge of the Canadian entries; J. W. G. Logan is in charge of the English team, and the Americans across the border will report to Deacon White. Arrangements will be made for the other teams desirous of entering. The contestants will be given a chance to show what they can do outside. The preliminary will run 112 minutes and the final two minutes.

K. O. FOR KILBANE

Bulletin Leased Wire. Johnstone, Pa., Oct. 28.—Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion of the world, knocked out Tommy Dunnigan, of New York, in the 10th round. Honors were even in the first round. Kilbane had the best of the second, and in the third he got the best of the fourth. Kilbane shut his eyes and Dunnigan went down for the count.

THINGS VS. WINFIELD

Bulletin Leased Wire. Victoria, Oct. 28.—The Calgary Tigers who for the third successive year have won the rugby championship of Alberta, agreed yesterday to play the first game of a series of six, arrangements having been made, to play the British Columbian champions to pay the travel expenses. The final game for the Western Canada championship will be played a week later.
